Partnership	Must comply with the requirements of Article 173, first paragraph.
Art. 170. By the contract of partnership two or more persons bind themselves to contribute money, property, or industry to a common fund with the intention of dividing the profits among themselves.	Partnership, a juridical person. An independent juridical person, a partnership may enter into contracts, acquire and possess property of all kinds in its name, as well as incur obligations and bring suit or be sued in its name. It is a partnership may be declared insolvent under the provisions of law. In that case, the contract may not be used to its full extent or to its full performance. It is sufficient that notice of insolvency be given to any partner.
Definition Partnership is a contract whereby two or three persons bind themselves to contribute money, property or industry to a common fund with the intention of dividing profits among themselves.	Partners cannot be held liable for the obligations of the partnership unless it is shown that the legal effect of a different contract or agreement is being used for a fraudulent intent in legal person.
Elements 1. Intention to form a contract of partnership 2. Participation in both profits and losses 3. Partnership principles	Effect of failure to comply with statutory requirements Article 173 Partnership still remains personally liable when to comply with the requirements of formation of a legal person and registration of name in BS.
Basic Features 1. Informal agreement 2. Association for profit 3. Mutual contribution to a common fund 4. Equal purpose or object 5. Mutual agency of partners 6. Arbitrated but be legal person 7. Separate juridical personality	Article 175 and 176. Partnership with immovable property contributed of without separate meaning, signed and attached to public instrument, shall not acquire any juridical personality because the contract itself is void. This is also true for secret associations or societies.
Characteristics 1. Informal -- perfected by mere consent 2. Mutual -- formed by two or more persons enjoying reciprocal rights and obligations 3. Reciprocity -- mutual trust or a means to an end 4. Mutual -- for a special cause or objective 5. Mutual -- contributions in the form of either money, property and/or industry must be made 6. Continuation -- the undertaking of each partner is considered as the undertaking of that of the others 7. Reciprocal -- its existence or stability does not depend on some other contract.	To register a partnership not an absolute right It is not a privilege which may be enjoyed only under such terms as the law may deem necessary to impose.
Principle of Mutual Agency (Article of General) -- a person has the right to affect partners with which he deals in the absence with a partnership.	Art. 178 In determining whether a partnership exists, these conditions apply: 1. Except as provided by Article 180, persons who are not partners or do not share in the profits are not partners. 2. Co-ownership or co-participation does not itself constitute a partnership, whether such co-ownership or co-participation be in the form of profits made by the use of the property.
Art. 178. The partnership has a juridical personality separate and distinct from that of each of the partners even in case of
